

Beginning in Summer 2009, the Department of Special Education at BSU is offering a series of four graduate level courses that will lead to a recommendation to receive the Consulting Teacher Endorsement from the Idaho State Department of Education. To accommodate teachers who do not live within physical access of BSU, we have developed a program of four courses - 3 online courses, and one live course offered over a summer week, with lodging and meals provided at no additional cost to the student.

This program is geared towards special education teachers with current certificates who have been teaching a minimum of 2 years. Districts may use Title 1 & Title IIA professional development funds to support teacher's tuition and fees.

Students who begin work on the endorsement in Summer 2009 can be recommended for the endorsement as early as May 2010. Additionally, the courses can also be used towards attainment of a Master of Education degree when other Graduate Program requirements are met.
