The Boise State University Institute for the Study of Behavioral Health and Addiction is accepting applications for student research grants. One research grant up to $200 is available to support student travel to present addictions-related research at state, regional, and national conferences. Grants may also be available to support conducting addictions-related research. Salary support is not available through this award mechanism.

To apply, please submit the following to the Institute Leadership Team at dianadoumas@boisestate.edu:

1. Cover letter describing research project (significance, methods, analyses proposed, and project timeline)
2. Detailed budget describing how money requested will be used
3. Proposal submission (if applying for travel money)
4. Contact information

Applications for research grants will be accepted from September 1 - April 1.

For questions, please contact Dr. Doumas, Director for the Institute for the Study of Behavioral Health and Addiction at dianadoumas@boisestate.edu.
