Overview

The ENL or Bilingual endorsement programs prepare licensed teachers to meet the Idaho State Department of Education requirements for an add-on endorsement to your teaching certification. The online program can also be combined with a master's degree program.

Program Goals

- Help teacher-leaders become well-grounded in teaching strategies, theory, and research related to teaching in culturally and linguistically diverse settings
- Challenge teachers to think, create, reflect and examine their own work, and collaborate with colleagues in pursuit of pedagogical practices that empower diverse children in schools
- The program’s curriculum is structured around four core learning outcomes: 1) critical questioner, 2) scholar, 3) educator, and 4) social justice collaborator

Curriculum for the English as a New Language (K-12) and Bilingual Endorsements

Students seeking the endorsements in ENL and Bilingual must also pass the ESOL Praxis (5361). To earn the Bilingual endorsement, the student must have an advanced level score on ACTFL and three upper division Spanish language courses (9 credit hours), one in writing and one in literature.
